The Power of Somatic Experiencing®

What Exactly is Somatic Experiencing®

Somatic Experiencing® is a trauma-focused therapeutic approach developed by Dr. Peter A. Levine, a renowned psychologist and biologist. It draws from his study of how animals recover from trauma without lasting symptoms and applies this understanding to humans.

Dr. Levine's method recognizes that trauma can become physically trapped in the body, leading to various symptoms. Somatic Experiencing® aims to release and resolve these sensations, promoting a sense of safety and empowerment by tapping into the body's natural healing abilities. This approach emphasizes the interconnectedness of body and mind to help individuals restore balance and well-being.

“The Somatic Experiencing Training®”

Discover a therapeutic healing of Trauma.

We invite you to embark on a profound exploration of Somatic Experiencing® with 'The White Elephant-Sprinkles of Wisdom' team in collaboration with Somatic Experiencing® International. This three-year program, nestled in the spiritual haven of Rishikesh, allows you to understand the mind-body's potential to heal itself naturally using unique techniques and processes involving Somatic Experiencing®. Explore this scientific process involving the Nervous system through this program held in the beautiful yoga capital of the world, Rishikesh, and become a certified SE™ Practitioner.

Trainer Information

Julie Teetsov, Ph.D.

Dr. Julie, is a Faculty Member with Somatic Experiencing International (SEI) and has over 20 years of experience teaching and working in the field of Somatics. Based in Aotearoa, New Zealand, she specialises in supporting individuals with chronic pain, chronic fatigue, anxiety, depression, and other body-based symptoms often related to developmental and traumatic stress. Prior to her private practice, Julie worked for many years providing mental health services and community support for refugees and asylum seekers in Auckland, bringing a deeply compassionate and trauma-informed approach to her work.

In addition to Somatic Experiencing[®], Julie is an Upledger Certified Craniosacral Therapist, a Somatic Movement Educator through the School of Body-Mind Centering[®], and a Kripalu Certified Yoga Teacher. She has also completed advanced training in Dynamic Attachment Re-patterning Experience (DARe) and Somatic Resilience and Regulation (SRR).

Julie has trained to be a teacher of Somatic Experiencing closely with respected mentors including Kathy Kain, Efu Nyaki, and Dea Parsanishi. Her teaching is known for creating a sense of safety, curiosity, and connection, blending theoretical understanding with experiential learning to help students develop both embodied presence and clinical confidence.

A Three-Year Practitioner Training On Somatic Experiencing Program Highlights

Beginner's Level

- ❖ Develop foundational skills in the SE™ bio-physiological model for the resolution of trauma. Typically consists of three 4-day live training modules spaced 2 to 4 months apart.
- ❖ Analyze the physiology of traumatic stress and its effect on the autonomic nervous system (ANS).
- ❖ Practice the fundamental SE™ method of tracking sensation to access responses in the ANS.
- ❖ Assess the neurophysiology of each aspect of the threat response: defensive orientation, fight/flight/freeze, deactivation and completion, and exploratory orienting.
- ❖ Develop skill in working with the SE™ model of tracking sensation to support completion of the threat-response cycle and incomplete survival responses.
- ❖ Demonstrate how to “titrate” (modulate) the SE™ trauma renegotiation process to ensure healthy integration of experience.
- ❖ Begin to integrate Porges' Polyvagal Theory of ANS function.
- ❖ Explain the SE™ model of SIBAM (Sensation, Image, Behavior, Affect, Meaning) and its significance in trauma.
- ❖ Explore coupling dynamics—the over- and under-association of the elements of SIBAM and elements of physiological responses to traumatically-stressing experience.
- ❖ Support clients in re-establishing and maintaining healthy boundaries.
- ❖ Identify, normalize, and stabilize traumatic reactions.
- ❖ Acquire brief intervention skills that provide long-term solutions to acute and chronic symptoms of trauma.
- ❖ Explore the integration of SE™ into ongoing professional practice.
- ❖ Explore the appropriate use of touch in the context of SE™.

Intermediate Level

- ❖ Global High-Intensity Activation (GHIA): pre- and peri-natal trauma, early trauma, anesthesia, suffocation, choking, drowning.
- ❖ High Impact/Failure of Physical Defense: falls, traumatic brain injury, motor vehicle accidents, and other high-impact accidents.
- ❖ Inescapable Attack: assault, animal attack, rape or sexual abuse, inhibited escape.
- ❖ Physical Injury: surgery, poison, burns, physical injury due to accident.
- ❖ Natural and Man-Made Disasters, Horror: natural disasters (e.g. earthquake, fires, etc.), war, terrorism, torture, ritual abuse, horror (e.g. witnessing abuse, causing harm to another).
- ❖ Emotional Trauma: severe neglect, severe loss, ongoing abuse.

Advanced Level

- ❖ Explain the importance of stabilization when working with complex trauma.
Explore the SE TM concept of “coherence” in working with complex trauma.
- ❖ Refine touch skills for supporting containment and coherence.
- ❖ Explain the interrelationship between dysregulation of the ANS and the SE TM model of syndromes (non-reciprocal relationship between the sympathetic and parasympathetic nervous systems).
- ❖ Analyze the Polyvagal Theory as it relates to working with syndromes.
- ❖ Refine the necessary SE TM skills of “titration” and “pendulation” when working with highly sensitive and syndromal clients.
- ❖ Apply the SE TM model for working with the eyes.
- ❖ Develop SE TM touch-based skills for working with different categories of trauma.
- ❖ Explain how SE TM uses joints, body diaphragms, and the viscera to access ANS responses and to support the completion of incomplete survival responses.
- ❖ Explore scope-of-practice issues relating to the integration of SE TM and SE TM touch into professional practice.

Your Stay in Rishikesh

Why Rishikesh is the Ideal Setting for Your Journey

Our training will take place amidst the tranquil and spiritually rich environment of Aurovalley Ashram close to Rishikesh. Surrounded by the majestic Himalayas and the sacred Ganga River, this setting will provide the perfect backdrop for self-discovery and emotional growth.

You are welcome to make your own accommodation arrangements as well. During the training, we shall be providing lunch and two teas.

If you plan to stay at the Ashram, kindly contact us for additional information and to make a booking.

Note: Accommodation is not included in the program fees. A separate fee needs to be paid for the stay

Your Stay in Rishikesh

The White Elephant organises its trainings at the Aurovalley Ashram in Rishikesh. Please note that accommodation is not included as a part of the training program. The ashram does offer rooms and stay facilities, which participants may choose based on their own preference and comfort.

As the ashram is located on the outskirts of a national park, the environment is natural and peaceful, but it also means the area can be more susceptible to insects, bugs, and other elements of nature. The accommodation at the ashram is very basic and simple, and should not be compared to a hotel experience. Rooms usually include attached washrooms, but there is no room service or hotel-style hospitality. Wi-Fi connectivity at the ashram can also be limited or inconsistent at times. The food served at the ashram is generally simple and bland. While some participants enjoy the simplicity of the meals, others may prefer exploring food options outside. There are cafés and restaurants available within a short driving/rickshaw distance.

The White Elephant neither specifically recommends staying at the ashram nor advises against it. The choice of accommodation is entirely an individual decision based on one's comfort, preferences, and personal requirements. For participants who prefer alternate stay options, we have attached below a few nearby hotels located approximately 20–30 minutes away from the ashram, along with some Airbnb options available within a 10–15 minute distance.

We kindly request participants to note that The White Elephant is responsible only for organising and facilitating the training program itself, and NOT for the accommodation arrangements of participants.

Ashram Stay Rules and Regulations.

The Aurovalley ashram, nestled near the Rajaji National Park, is a serene retreat frequented by deer, birds, elephants, and peacocks during the peaceful early mornings and evenings.

In seminars like this, we explore the vital concept of adult responsibility, both theoretically and practically.

Given its ashram setting, facilities are limited, offering simple satvic food and cozy single-sharing rooms suitable for workshop participants. While mattresses may not match those at home or in hotels, we suggest bringing items to enhance your comfort during your stay. For guests requiring hot water, we have requested the installation of common hot geysers on each floor.

Dress code

The ashram follows a modest dress code, requiring attire that covers the body adequately and avoids excessive exposure of skin. Open or transparent clothing is not encouraged. We kindly request guests to wear loose and comfortable clothing that maintains modesty without being overly revealing.

Food/Dining Timing at the Ashram

Meals at the ashram adhere to strict timings

Breakfast	08:00 am - 08:30 am
Tea break	11:00 am - 11:30 am
Lunch	01:00 pm - 01:30 pm
Tea break	04:15 pm - 04:45 pm
Dinner	07:00 pm - 07:30 pm

For those with gluten or lactose intolerances, we recommend bringing supplements or alternative foods, as providing substitutes is challenging in an ashram environment. Additionally, please ensure you have an adequate supply of medications and any necessary items for your safety and comfort.

Each building within the ashram is equipped with a communal pantry featuring an electric kettle for access to hot water for drinking.

As organizers, we will endeavor to make you feel comfortable and well-cared for, but your own efforts in self-care will also contribute to our collective well-being.
